Portable toilets also referred to as porta potties, port-a-johns, or port-a-janes are portable buildings made of a translucent roof, vents, and structure, housing a urinal, toilet seat, sink, and holding tank. More deluxe versions may contain flushable toilets or even showers. Portable toilets are most often used at construction sites, concerts, festivals, industrial sites, natural disasters, home renovations, and other outdoor events/locations where access to bathrooms is non-existent or limited. Porta potties do not use plumbing but come equipped with waste basins that are emptied and sanitized for re-use.

The national average cost to rent a portable toilet for a month is between $125 and $300. Most homeowners pay around $212 for a one week/weekend rental of a flushable portable toilet or a sink for the holidays. At the low end of the spectrum, you will pay around $80 for a one day rental of a standard portable toilet. At the high end, you may pay up to $500 for a one month rental of a deluxe portable toilet, plus maintenance twice per week and a sanitizer dispenser.

Portable Toilet Rental Cost per Month

Portable toilet rental costs drop significantly when contracted for long-term use averaging between $100 to $500 per month, with differences based on location, features, and delivery. You can expect to pay less for a monthly rental than a day rental because the highest price for the supplier is the set up and transportation. It is more cost-effective for the company the longer you keep the portable toilet. Therefore, they can charge you less for longer durations.

Porta Potty Rental Cost by Type

The type of porta potty you need will play a role in the rental cost averaging between $80 and $350. There are several different porta potty types on the market ranging from standard toilets to deluxe washrooms. Each one offers something slightly different. Depending on the occasion, one porta potty type may be more favoured over another. For construction sites or outdoor concerts, a standard portable toilet style is often the go-to choice. For weddings or other outdoor special events that require VIP treatment and comfort, a deluxe style or flushable toilet may be a better-suited choice. The chart below highlights the cost to rent a porta potty for one day based on the type, followed by an explanation of each, their use, and cost.

| Type | Cost to Rent (Materials and Labor) |
| --- | --- |
| Standard | $80 - $125 |
| Standard with Sink | $85 - $125 |
| Flushable | $85 - $150 |
| High Rise | $125 - $225 |
| ADA Porta Potty | $150 - $225 |
| Solar | $175 - $325 |
| Deluxe | $200 - $350 |

Standard

Standard portable restrooms can be found at most high-volume events, like concerts and festivals. Most feature reinforced walls, toilet, ventilation, a mirror, toilet paper dispenser, and an occupied/vacant sign on the door. They do not flush or offer many extra features. These standard portable toilets can be rented in a large quantity for the low cost of $80 to $125 per day.

Standard with Sink

Standard portable restrooms with a sink can be ideal for events or job sites where handwashing is required. These are a popular choice for outdoor festivals, concerts, or food vendor areas. These standard portable toilets feature everything in a standard portable toilet but also include a handwashing sink. The average cost to rent a standard portable toilet with a sink is around $85 to $125 per day.

Flushable Portable Toilet

Flushable portable toilets are a step up from a standard porta potty that includes a flushable toilet. These toilets are flushed using hands-free flushing via a foot-pump and feature a hidden waste tank. Additional features usually include a sink or a hand sanitizer dispenser. These types of toilets offer an increased level of comfort and convenience for users. Flushable portable toilets average around $85 to $150 per day for rent.

High Rise Porta Potty

High rise porta potties are standard porta potties equipped with a lift kit compatible with most standard cranes. Their heavy-duty wheels and handles make them easy to move to any location. These toilets are designed for construction job sites in high-rise buildings with no access to elevators, events in apartment buildings, or other events requiring toilet maneuverability. High rise porta potties are compact but equipped with a standard size toilet. They also feature toilet paper dispensers, privacy doors, and sometimes a sink. The average cost to rent a high rise porta potty is $125 to $225 per day.

ADA Porta Potty

Handicap accessible washrooms may be required at your event or job site. These restrooms are easily accessible to those with disabilities by providing additional support such as handrails and anti-slip flooring. These ADA porta potties are roomier and offer an oversized door and ground level floor access. The average cost to rent a wheelchair accessible porta potty is $150 to $225 per day.

Solar Porta Potty

Solar porta potties are the newest on the market and add electricity that is not seen with most standard porta potties. Solar portable toilets are equipped with solar panels that convert sunlight into energy, which helps to power flushable toilets, ventilation, running water, and much more. These portable toilets typically come equipped with faucets for hand washing, safety lights, hooks for jackets, and grip flooring. There are also winterized units for heat and air conditioning for warmer climates. The rental cost for a solar porta potty is $175 to $325 per day.

Deluxe Portable Toilet

Offer your guests VIP treatment with a deluxe portable restroom facility. These porta potties provide the comforts of home with luxurious features, including hot and cold running water and flushing toilets. These toilets are often found at weddings, movie sets, and long-term construction sites. There are no hose connections or water sources required. The average cost to rent a deluxe portable toilet per day is $200 to $350 per day.

Portable Toilet Rental Cost by Type of Event

The type of event or use for your porta potties directly affects the number and type of portable toilets needed. The costs range anywhere from $125 to $4,500. For more lavish events such as an outdoor wedding, deluxe or flushable toilets are typically the go-to choice. For a high volume event such as a concert or festival, standard portable toilets are efficient enough to do the job. Disaster relief sites typically require trailers equipped with toilets and showers to provide comfort and sanitation for those in need. The number of attendees or people directly influences how many porta potties are needed to make sure your guests/users aren't waiting in a long line for the bathroom. The chart below highlights the cost to rent a porta potty for one day based on the type of event, followed by an explanation of considerations for the type of event and cost.

| Event | Cost to Rent One Portable Toilet |
| --- | --- |
| Party | $125 - $175 |

| Event | Cost to Rent One Portable Toilet |
| --- | --- |
| Outdoor Event | $125 - $175 |
| Wedding | $900 - $3000 |
| Disaster Relief | $1,000 - $4,500 |

Porta Potty Rentals for Parties

Renting a porta potty for a party is quite easy and affordable, ranging in cost between $125 and $175 for a standard version or $200 to $350 for a more deluxe style. If you are planning a backyard party, you most likely want guests to be comfortable and do not want guests going in and out of your house, tracking in dirt, or even going in the bushes. Especially if drinking and eating are involved, porta potties are a must.

Typically, most companies recommend renting a standard flushable toilet or a standard flushable toilet with a sink for a one day party. These toilets come equipped with all the basic amenities and are perfect for the event type. The number of guests at the party determines how many portable toilets you should provide. Only one porta potty is required for a party of up to 50 people for up to three hours. The number of guests at the party determines how many portable toilets you should provide.

Porta Potties for an Outdoor Event

Standard portable restrooms can be found at most high-volume events, like concerts and festivals. These standard portable toilets come equipped with a toilet, sink, and toilet paper.

The biggest considerations for portable toilets at any outdoor event are the number of people present and the duration of the event. (Refer to how many porta potties do I need section, for details). If the outdoor event is a weekend in duration with up to 1000 attendees, you are required to have up to 12 porta potties. A daily/weekend rental of a standard porta potty can cost anywhere between $125 and $175. If more deluxe style porta potties are preferred, the cost can increase from $200 to $350.

Wedding Porta Potty Rental Cost

The average cost to rent porta potties for a wedding ranges from $125 to $3000, depending on the type. You may have found the ideal location for your wedding, but the problem is that the location does not come equipped with washrooms. Although portable toilets are not your first choice, the good news is that there are luxury portable washrooms. Many options are available for your prestigious special event. The style of your washroom is completely up to you. Depending on your budget, you may opt into renting a luxury restroom trailer that houses multiple bathroom stalls and costs anywhere from $900 to $3,000 per weekend. On the higher end of the price range, you can include all of the bells and whistles, including TVs, WIFI, and restroom attendants. While these styles are available, you might prefer to rent the standard portable washrooms to give your guests a more rustic outdoor experience, bringing the portable toilet rental cost down to $125 to $175.

The most important factor to consider is that you have enough washrooms to meet your guests' needs. Hopefully, your RSVPs are in time to know how many people will be in attendance. The duration of your wedding is another factor that determines the number of washrooms. For a shorter wedding, washrooms may not be needed as much compared to an all-night event where alcohol is served. Renting the proper number of washrooms is key to avoiding lineups to use the bathroom.

Porta Potties for Disaster Relief

Portable toilets are one of the most important items that can be available to people in a natural disaster such as a flood, earthquake, wildfire, or hurricane. The aftermath of a disaster becomes very dangerous when buildings or sanitation facilities become destroyed or unavailable. One of the last things people need to worry about during recovery from a natural disaster is sanitation and access to washrooms and sanitary showers. Having access to proper sanitation reduces the chances of the spread of illness during a disaster. Portable shower trailers are a perfect solution to porta potties and standalone handwashing stations during an emergency. They offer a sanitary, spacious, clean, full-service bathroom and shower and resemble the comfort of a home bathroom. Comfort in these types of situations can go a long way. With multiple sized trailers, it is easy to take care of multiple people.

For disaster relief, the rental of trailers may depend on where the disaster occurs and the type. If the event is minimal, it may fall on local agencies to provide portable toilets. If the disaster is extensive at a state or federal level, then portable trailers will be brought in right away. The cost for rental of portable shower trailers during a natural disaster depends on how many are required and the duration of a rental. The average cost for the rental of a portable shower trailer is $1,000 to $4,500 per weekend, which will be less for extended periods.

Average Porta Potty Rental Cost

The average cost for renting a porta potty for one day is $155 to $375 per month. Approximately 40% of the final costs are made up of materials, and the other 60% made up of labor. The majority of the rental costs covers the placement, delivery, and removal of the porta-potty. The other portion covers the materials such as hand sanitizer, soap, paper towels, tank liquid, and deodorizer.

The portable toilets will be delivered to your location on the top of a truck or by towing, depending on the type of unit rented. Companies require a clear pathway to the location where the units will be placed. A mechanical lift in the rear of their vehicle allows them to easily unload the unit off of the truck. The tailgate is lowered, and the straps are removed. The unit is pulled right off the truck. The wheels on each side of the trailer are lowered to ensure an easy move to the desired location. The customer can choose if they would like the unit to remain on the wheels or be lowered to the ground level.

Next, the porta potty will be set-up. The tank is filled with water and a blue dye disinfectant and stocked with toilet paper, hand sanitizer, soap, and other necessities. Cleaning and maintenance schedules will be determined by the company and included in the rental contract.

Porta potty suppliers come to retrieve the portable toilets and supplies at a predetermined date. If any delays occur upon arrival, extra charges can show up on your bill. The company is responsible for the waste disposal, removal, and total site cleanup.

The placement of the portable toilets is another important factor that must be determined to ensure ease of use. Each portable toilet needs to be placed on an accessible, solid, level, dry surface in a location where a service truck can reach within 25 to 40 feet. Placement on uneven surfaces can cause the waste basin to fill unevenly. For most events, it makes the most sense to place the portable toilets centrally and in high-traffic areas to ensure individuals don't have to travel far to find a bathroom. If handicap porta potties are required, a minimum of one should be placed at each porta potty location to ensure they can be easily reached by those with physical limitations or small children.

Portable Toilet Rental for Construction Sites Cost

Whether working on a small project or a large commercial building site, construction job sites require a certain number of portable toilets by law, averaging anywhere from $80 to $225 per day, depending on the type. If contracted for a long-term construction project, this number can drop anywhere from $100 to $500 per month, with differences based on location, features, and delivery. The two most common porta potties rented for construction sites are the standard porta potty and high-rise. The standard porta potty provides workers with a contained basic facility, equipped with a toilet, urinal, and fully stocked toilet paper dispenser that meets all sanitary needs. A high-rise porta potty is designed specifically for high-rise construction, referred to as a porta potty elevator unit. These portable toilets can be lifted by crane or elevator to hard to reach locations and provide up to a 38-gallon tank. The standard ratio for construction sites is one porta potty per every ten workers in a 40-hour workweek. The chart below illustrates the number of portable toilets required based on the number of workers and shifts.

Porta Potty Purchase Cost

If you are looking at purchasing a portable toilet, you can expect to pay anywhere from $700 to $3,000 per unit. A standard portable restroom starts at around $700 for purchase. For more deluxe models, it can cost up to $3,000, depending on its amenities. Purchasing a porta potty can be ideal for those businesses or construction companies that require the use of a porta potty quite often. The option of purchasing rather than renting can be more cost-effective, saving money on recurring rental fees and maintenance over time.

How Many Porta Potties Do I Need?

When renting a porta potty, it is important to decide how many portable toilets you will need to rent. If you have too many, it can be a waste of money. If you don't have enough, people will have to wait in a long line to use the toilet and miss out on the fun or be late for work. The number of toilets needed is highly dependent on the duration of the event and the number of people. The chart below can be used to determine the number of porta potties needed for your upcoming event. According to the chart, two porta potties are enough for a ten-hour event with less than 50 people. For a ten-hour event with 5,000 people, it could require the support of up to 35 portable toilets. A couple of rules of thumb to keep in mind are for every four washrooms, add one accessible unit and one hand wash station. If food and drinks are being served, add 15 to 20% more washrooms.

Portable Toilet Maintenance

Keeping your portable toilet rental clean, odor-free, and sanitary begins with proper maintenance. This especially applies to multi-day events or long-term site rentals where the toilet/toilets are frequently used. When you rent a porta potty, the maintenance schedule is often discussed and includes the costs in the contract. If you prefer any additional maintenance outside of the contract agreement, you can expect to pay an extra cost of $45 to $60 per visit.

The cleaning and maintenance of portable toilets have to be regular but will depend on the number of users and the time of year. If the porta potty is being used at a multi-day event with heavy traffic and alcohol, you can expect maintenance once or twice a day. During the summer months, the smell inside the tank can worsen due to the warmer temperatures and require more frequent maintenance. Once a week is a standard cleaning schedule for most rental companies to do a thorough cleaning.

During a maintenance visit, service staff will typically follow four basic steps: pump, clean, sanitize, and restock. Step one involves removing the waste inside the holding tank. A vacuum is inserted into the toilet, which is used to pump the waste to the truck tank. The collected waste is then transported by the sanitation trucks to a waste treatment facility. After the tank has been emptied, it is time to clean. Cleaning the porta potty involves using a high-pressure water gun to wash off dirt, remove bacteria and germs, and prevent mold from accumulating. The high-pressure gun is filled with an odor control substance and disinfectant. When the cleaning is done, a towel is used to dry off all surfaces, except the floor. After the cleaning is done, the service staff sanitizes by refilling the holding tank with a blue additive, which works as a deodorizer, disinfectant, and odor control substance. This additive color changes to green to provide a good indicator of when the next service is required. Finally, the service team restocks the portable restroom with essentials such as toilet paper, paper towels, hand sanitizer, soap, and even air freshener. As a courtesy, most companies sign and date the cleaning service sticker inside the porta potty to document that maintenance and regular cleaning was completed.

Enhancement and Improvement Costs

Portable Hand Washing Station Rental Cost

Portable handwashing stations are a must have when standard plumbing is not available for a rental cost of approximately $155 per week. They can be used for a variety of different events, including construction sites or large events. Handwashing stations come with a freshwater source, hands-free foot pump, soap dispenser, paper towels, and garbage. Depending on the size of your event, there is the option of a two-person hand wash station or a four-person. A two-person hand wash unit can provide approximately 600 to 700 hand washes and a four-person approximately 1,000.

Restroom Trailer Rental Cost

The average cost for renting a restroom trailer is approximately $900 to $3,000 per weekend. These restroom trailers are full-sized trailers that house multiple bathroom stalls (between 2 and 25) and are commonly used for VIP events, construction sites, disaster relief, and home renovations. An upgrade from a standard porta potty, these restroom trailers come equipped with toilets, A/C and heat, sinks with hot and cold running water, and toilets that flush. You can also increase the cost by adding in all of the bells and whistles, including TVs, WIFI, and restroom attendants.

Hand Sanitizer Station Rental

A hand sanitizer station can be used instead of a portable handwashing station at large events; recommended for concerts, commercial venues, festivals, fairs, and construction sites. The stand sits among your porta potties and offers a quick and convenient, waterless hand wash for your users. There are no towels or water needed. The average cost for a rental of a hand sanitizer station is approximately $155 per week.

Portable Shower Trailer Rental Price

The average cost for the rental of a portable shower trailer is approximately $1,000 to $4,500 per weekend. Portable restroom trailers are the perfect solution for an event, construction site, disaster relief, or home renovation where comfort is required. Similar to restroom trailers, these trailers offer many features and amenities like a home bathroom including A/C and heat, sinks, flushable toilets, with the addition of shower stalls. These portable shower trailers often require an electricity hookup and water pump.

Portable Electric Heater Rental

If your job site doesn't have permanent heating installed, then a portable electric heater can be a temporary heating solution for your construction site. Electric heaters are typically the safest and most efficient heating systems for construction sites as long as the power is provided. They can run for long periods without having to check on them. The average cost for an electric heater runs between $10 and $75 per day, depending on the size and voltage. Renting the heaters for longer periods reduces the rental cost. Some states require heaters to meet state requirements on some construction sites.

Additional Considerations and Costs

- Regulations: To properly comply with regulations and local ordinances related to safe operations and environmentally compliant handling, transportation, and disposal of waste, some companies incur climate-related charges. These fees should be upfront and not hidden within your service fees.

- Permits: Most rental companies take care of the permits for you as part of the contract. Permits are not required for all porta potty rentals but vary among locations such as work sites, events on private properties, and public facilities. Make sure to follow up with the rental company on the requirement of a permit for your rental.

- Construction sites requirements: Construction sites may be required by law to provide a number of portable toilets proportional to the size of the work crew. The American every ten workers.

- Eco-friendly portable toilets: they flush using less water consumption than an average portable toilet. This innovative technology allows the toilet to save water using a recirculating system. The cost to purchase an eco-friendly portable toilet ranges between models and sizes, costing anywhere from $150 to $1,600.

- Women's only portable toilets: Some companies may have women's only portable toilets for rent, which commonly feature feminine pink decor, seat pads, a clean and spacious design, and odor-free sanitation.

- Deposit: When renting a porta potty, most companies require a deposit to protect the company from cancellation or property damage. These fees are typically refunded or deducted from your total.

- Fees: Depending on the rental company, some other fees are involved in the rental of a porta potty, including damage waiver, reservation, fuel surcharge, waste-handling, cleaning and maintenance, premium charge, expedited delivery, and late fees.

- Damage waiver fee: A damage waiver fee is highly recommended and acts to protect you and the company if a unit becomes damaged.

- Reservation fee: A fee paid to reserve your rental on the schedule.

- Fuel surcharge: A flat-rate or price-per miles charge for the mileage for delivery and pickup.

- Waste-handling fee: Cover the costs associated with dumping the tanks at the waste disposal facility.

- Cleaning and maintenance fee: A weekly cleaning is typically included in the rental, but additional cleanings come at an additional cost.

- Premium charge: There may be a charge to cover employee overtime if porta potties are delivered on a Saturday or Sunday.

- Expedited delivery charge: If you require a porta potty to be delivered urgently, there may be an extra fee to expedite the delivery, often within two or fewer days. This usually occurs in the situation of a natural disaster.

- Late fees: If you end up needing the portable toilets for longer than anticipated or scheduled, you will be required to pay an extra "late fee" per day.

- Hiring tips: Multiple portable toilet rental companies are on the market. It is a good idea to shop around and try to find the cheapest rentals. Inquire about discounts, fees, the right size and type, and try to negotiate the best rate.
